The Mystical Arts of Tibet

Personal reflection and inspiration come to life as the Tibetan monks of Drepung Loseling Monastery return to create a sand-painted mandala, which is used as a tool for re-consecrating the earth and its inhabitants. As the mandala is created and then deconstructed, the sands are then taken to the water and from there it spreads throughout the world for planetary healing.

CHARLES H. TAYLOR

CENTER

A Hampton Arts Venue

The handsome building on the corner of Victoria Boulevard and Kecoughtan Road in downtown Hampton has been a vibrant center of learning, exploration and creativity for more than eight decades thanks to the farsighted vision of Mrs. Grace Taylor Armstrong. It was in 1925 that Mrs. Armstrong, married to a decorated soldier, Captain Matthew Armstrong, made the decision to create a living memorial to her father, General Charles H. Taylor (who was the Founder and Managing Editor of The Boston Globe).

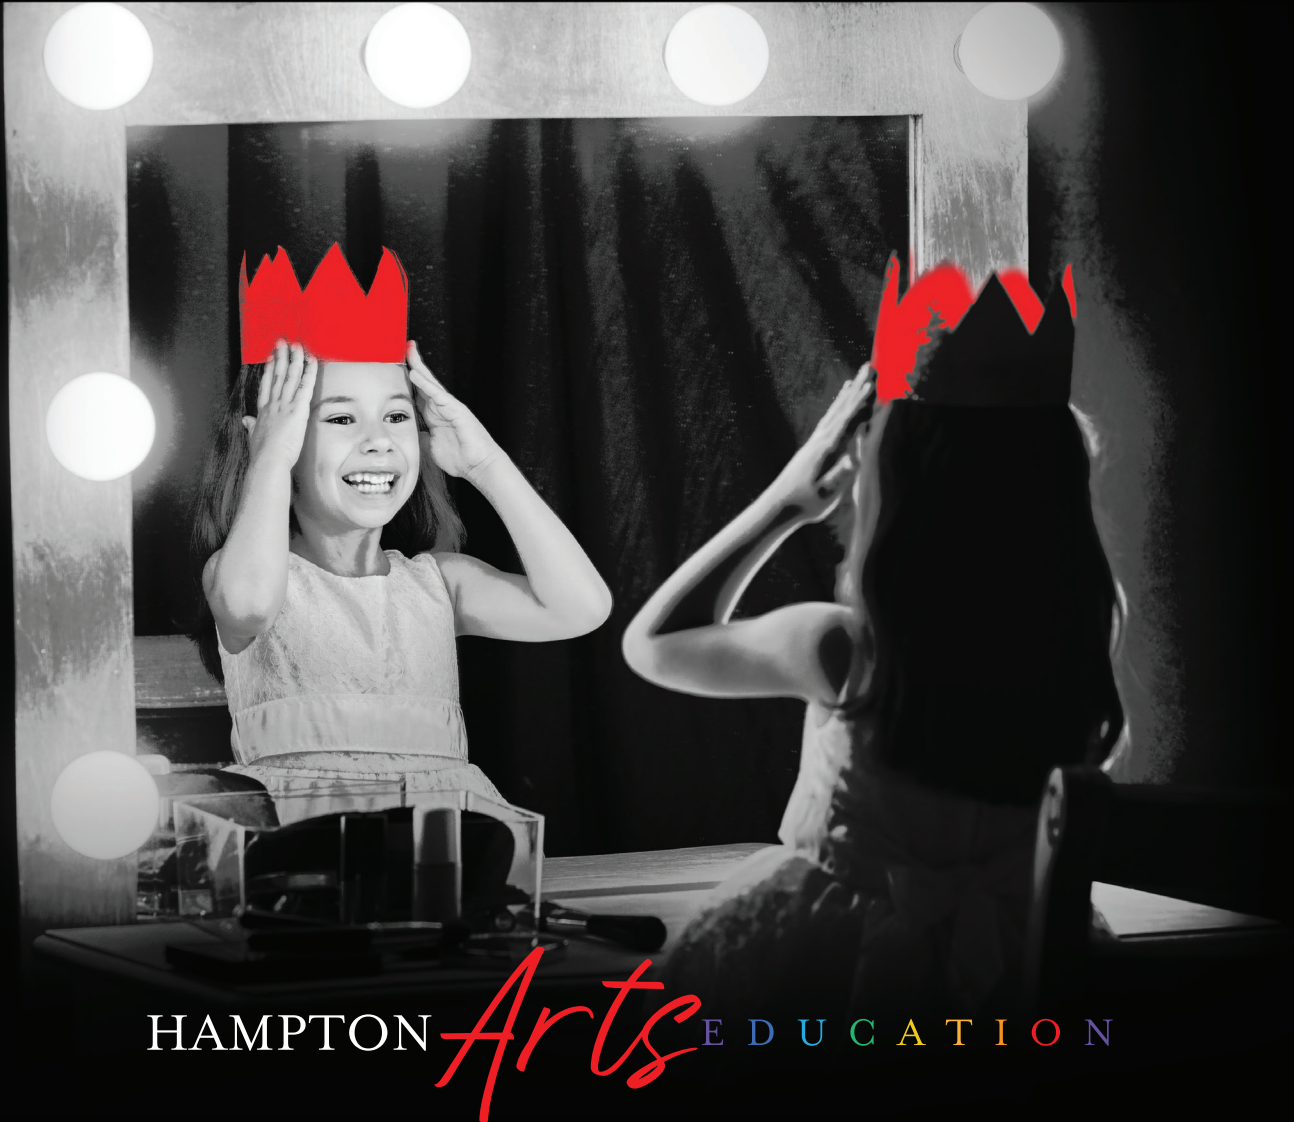

Mrs. Armstrong conveyed in trust the land and building to be known as "The Charles H. Taylor Memorial Library — for the use and benefits of the residents of Elizabeth City County, including the City of Hampton and the incorporated Towns and communities within said County." The Armstrong family was also very instrumental in the establishment and growth of Hampton University - then known as Hampton Institute. Armstrong Hall on the campus is now the home of the University's theatre department.

After time spent as the Hampton Public Library, today The Charles H. Taylor Visual Arts Center is lauded as a comprehensive arts center, which showcases the work of visual artists from throughout Coastal Virginia, the Commonwealth of Virginia and the Mid-Atlantic region. It is a showcase for up-and-coming artists and their teachers in all media, the home of prestigious juried exhibitions and an ever-evolving studio program, and a host to an ongoing series of workshops, demonstrations and seminars.

We are dedicated to sharing artists from around the world and around the corner — and we have no plans of slowing down!

DO MORE. TRY MORE. Be More.

Hampton Arts Education is committed to providing inspiring performing and visual art classes, camps, workshops and cultural events that allow each participant to own a part of the creative process. Our mission to do more, try more, and be more provides a framework for shaping individual artistic expression. Through the arts, we share and celebrate humanity while developing a better understanding of ourselves and the world around us.

Our Homeschool One-Actors program features performing arts instruction which culminates with a performance on the American Theatre stage. We are also planning some additional daytime and evening classes to introduce youth to acting, musical theatre, dance and movement classes!

While our visual and fine arts education program, ArtWorks, took a hiatus for a short time, we are still planning the best ways to work with regional school districts! Our program goal is to augment the schools' visual arts curriculums with our Teaching Artists to support our region's art teachers.

Finally, we're already thinking and looking ahead to our SummerStage Musical Theatre Institute in 2023. We anticipate offering a host of world-class theatre experiences through a combination of arts-intensive workshops and classes with professional actors and instructors from around the world and around the corner.

Our mission at Hampton Arts Education is always to provide our citizens and audiences with exciting, diverse and dynamic outlets for artistic expression. Our creativity will have no limits – and neither will our commitment to arts education! We will continue to passionately enable you to do more, try more, and be more!
